

Richard Paul's

Middle School Programs

Eliminating Middle School Bullying Program is designed to help the victim of a Middle School Bully and explain how middle school bullying can hurt and scar a victim for life.

The Problem:

- 1. Middle school bullies tease other students
- 2. Middle school bullies alienate other students
- 3. Middle school bullies often physically hurt other students
- 4. Middle school bullies may cyber bully other students
- 5. Middle school bullies sometimes gang up and terrorize other students

Program Objective

Break the silence and encourage no bullying discussion that helps the victims and the students. Ending the middle school bullying is a major step in having a safe school policy. Richard's Eliminating Middle School Bullying school assembly program shares strategies and simple techniques students can use to take action to prevent or put an end to middle school violence.

Program Synopsis:

Richard's Duck Sense™ Eliminating Middle School Bullying Program is designed to help the victim of a Middle School Bully and explain how middle school bullying can hurt and scar a victim for life.

Through humor, ventriloquism, real life middle school bullying stories and audience participation, students discover having fun at someone else's expense is actually bullying. What was thought to be "girls being girls" is girls being nasty and bullying other girls, what was thought to be boys just goofing around is actually boys bullying other boys or girls.

In the Middle School world of clicks, popularity and self-discrimination, Richard's Eliminating Middle School Bullying assembly program's goal is to break the silence and encourage no bullying discussion that helps the victims and the students. Ending the middle school bullying is a major step in having a safe school policy. Richard's Eliminating Middle School Bullying school assembly program shares strategies and simple techniques students can use to take action to prevent or put an end to middle school violence.

At every middle school Richard has presented his Eliminating Middle School Bullying school assembly program teachers, administrators and students have commented on how Richard kept their attention, entertained them with his hilarious creativity and motivated them to want to initiate a no bully supportive environment.

~~~~~